Provident Fund contributions will increase if organisations adopt the expanded definition of wages as earlier PF was calculated only on basic pay and dearness and other special allowances. The government has consolidated 29 central labour laws into four codes, inclu-laws into four codes, inclu-laws into four codes, inclu-ding those related to wages and social security. Nishith Desai Associates head (HR laws) Vikram Shroff said the laws) Vikram Shroff said the labour codes have introdu-ced some fresh concepts, but the most important change is the expanded definition of 'wages'. "This definition is consistent across all the four labour codes and will have considerable implications for both employers and wor-kers, with the possibility of adversely affecting take hoadversely affecting take-ho-mepay," said Shroff.

The computation of 'wa-ges' under the new codes includes components like bacludes components like ba-sic pay dearness, retaining and special allowances. Spe-cified frems like HRA, conve-yance, statutory bouns, overtime allowance and commissions have been ex-cluded for computing wages, which, under the code, should be at least 50% of the total remuneration.

Accordingly, if these specified exclusions cross 50% of the remuneration, the exof the remuneration, the ex-cess amount will be conside-red to determine 'wages' un-der the codes. Typically, the compensa-tion structure in India across industries comprises basic salary, which is in the range of 30% to 50% of the gross, while allowances ma-ke up the balance. Some companies, said experts, plan to take the basic pay to 50% of the remuneration so that the specified exclusions are capped at 50% arecapped at 50%.

Ann India CEO (performance & rowards) Ni tin Seihi sees a rise of 6-10%. In a company's wage bill, in case it now provides basic salary at 29-30% of the total compensation. For those whose basic salary is already at 40% of the gross, the cost timplication would be lower, at around 3-4%.

"If the basic pay to gross we ratio is around 3-4%, and the salary is gross as a company of the salary is gross and the salary is gross as a company of the salary is gross and the salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross and the salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross and the salary is gross as a salary is gross as "If the basic pay to gross per ratio is around 30% and timoves upto 60%, after implementation of the 'Code on Wages', we would expect the liabilities on account of the above schemes to double, said Aon India practice leader (retirement and benefits solutions) Vishal Grover, Additionally, gratuity will be payable to fixed-term emplo-

The labour codes, however, do not contain a provision requiring employers to change their CTC (cost to company) structure. "Whet-her it is still a good practice her it is still a good practice to do so needs to be considered by each employer based on the CTC structure, especially if the basic salary plus other included components is less than 50% of the total remuneration, "said Shroff.

He added that although the Budget made references formale workers' burticlinato female workers' participa tion, protection of migrant workers and social security coverage for gig workers, it fell short of providing clarity on the new labour codes and how the government proposes to implement proposes to imp them. "Employers ne them, "Employers need to be ready should any of the labo-ur codes is made effective on April 1 to coincide with the beginning of new the finan-cial year," said Shroff.
